13. A motion may be reconsidered provided the mover of the motion to reconsider voted with the majority, and notice of motion is given for consideration at the next meeting, and said notice of motion is supported by two-thirds of the members at the meeting.

Appendix F – Oath of Office

“I hereby sincerely pledge my word to the members of the Grain and General Services Union (ILWU • Canada) that I will truly and faithfully perform the duties of my office in accordance with the Constitution and policies of Grain and General Services Union, and that I will act in a manner consistent with continued representation by the Grain and General Services Union.”

Appendix G – Harassment Policy

The GSU wants to provide a harassment free environment at all its activities. The Union must create an environment in which every member is valued equally, and believes her or himself to be valued equally.

Harassment can be defined as any unwelcome action - whether verbal or physical - on a single or repeated basis which humiliates, insults, or degrades. Unwelcome means any action which the harasser knows or ought reasonably to know, is not desired by the victim of the harassment.

Harassment is a serious form of discrimination which creates feelings of uneasiness, humiliation, and discomfort and strikes at the heart of the Union. As trade Unionists, we must work and socialize together in an atmosphere of mutual respect.

The GSU will take prompt and appropriate action to investigate and resolve any alleged or suspected incidents of harassment.

Harassment is not welcome, not mutual, and not equal.

For the purpose of this policy, sexual, racial, and personal harassment are defined as follows:

Examples of personal harassment include:

- spreading unfounded or misinformed rumours that unjustly damage a co-worker's or Union member's reputation;

Resolutions and Complaint Procedure

Within the Union

A person who believes that she or he is a victim of harassment should take immediate remedial action.

Make it clear that the attention or offensive behaviour is not welcome, either on your own or via a third party (verbally or in writing). Warn him or her that if the behaviour continues, you will pursue the matter. It may be the individual is unaware that the behaviour is offensive.

If the inappropriate behaviour persists, the complainant shall approach one of the designated representatives (Ombudsman) and ask him/her to act on their behalf. If at all possible, member-to-member harassment is best resolved through informal resolution with the confidentiality of all involved parties respected.

Should the harassment fail to be resolved by the informal process, a complainant may wish to make a formal complaint. This complaint will be fully investigated by the designated Representative, who will report to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee will consider the report and take appropriate action. Every effort should be made to resolve harassment within the Union.

There may be situations, however, where a victim of harassment may wish to consider external alternatives. Complaints may be taken to the appropriate Human Rights Commission. Charges may be laid under the Criminal Code.

Within the Workplace

When harassment takes place within the workplace, complainants may use this procedure, the employer procedure, and/or the grievance procedure.

Designated Representatives

Designated representatives shall be the Executive Committee of the Union and one representative from each province.

The Union will undertake to arrange training for the designated representatives.

The investigation of each incident will be handled confidentially and expeditiously for the victim. In conducting the investigation, the necessary records must be maintained.

IF YOU ARE A VICTIM OF HARASSMENT:

Say No!

Tell the harasser(s) clearly that you do not welcome their actions or remarks. You may want someone with you if you choose to confront the harasser.

Tell Someone!

Inform a designated representative of the incident. All such discussions will be treated confidentially.

The purpose is to resolve the complaint before it reaches the stage where a formal complaint is necessary.

Document What Happened!

Write down the date, time, locations, names of witnesses (if any), how you were harassed, and how you responded.

IF YOU ARE ACCUSED OF HARASSMENT:

Stop!

If you are told your actions or speech are unwelcome or unwanted, then stop and listen! Remember - it is not up to you to define what is uncomfortable for another person.

Resolve!

You may be approached informally with concerns about alleged harassment. This is a good opportunity to resolve the incident in a positive manner.

Document!

Write down the date, time, location, names of witnesses (if any), and your interpretation of the incident.
